

PRESS RELEASE – AMAZE

Range with natural life

The new range Amaze gives teak a well-earned boost with design that is intelligent, from its sculptural look down to even the smallest detail. The range contains a dining chair, a lounge chair, a bench, a sunlounger and a foldable table with detachable tray.

Furniture with warmth and glow

The Amaze range with its living material and warm glow, softens the whole Cane-line collection. For example, the lounge chair adds a warm contrast to a fabric covered lounge range and the stackable dining chairs are a perfect match for the Core table with aluminium legs and teak tabletop.

Sculptural and practical

The Amaze bench's sculptural back is a minor work of art, while at the same time ensuring excellent sitting comfort through its' curved shape. The chairs and bench's wide armrests add to the comfort and can be used for a cup of coffee or cold drink. Specially designed cushions are available for both bench and chairs.

Deliberate detail

The design team Foersom & Hiort-Lorenzen MDD have created this range and their love of natural materials is evident in the fine details, which create an exclusive look where armrests and legs are joined using finger joints. So too, in the practical foldable table tray with its strong painted aluminium base, where decorative holes allow rainwater to run through.

Decorative sunlounger

Like the rest of the range, the sunlounger is extremely comfortable, but unlike the curved shapes that characterise the other products of the Amaze range, the sunlounger distinguishes itself through its simplicity. Each wooden rod aligns perfectly, so that when the backrest is laid out flat, the sunlounger transforms into a minimalistic bench. Only the wheels reveal the sunlounger's real function. Created for relaxation, it fulfils that function perfectly.

Ages beautifully

Teak is a natural material with its own unique life. How it ages through the years depends on how it is treated from the start. Without treatment, the colour of the wood gracefully fades to a cool silver-grey colour. A simple annual coat of oil will maintain the teak's warm and youthful glow. Regardless of the choice, teak is beautiful and classic and has a long lifetime.
