DESCRIPTION

One of Gio Ponti's signature designs is the Randaccio mirror from 1925. Designed for his own home on Via Randaccio in Milano, his very first architectural project, the Randaccio mirror decorated the walls in his bedroom on the 3rd floor together with other furniture designed especially for the apartment. The Randaccio mirror unites elegance with simplicity and is characterized by its atypical crown-like detailing on the top, a detail used by Ponti in several of his works within design and art. The mirror has references to its original time period but is able to add personality to every contemporary setting and enrich the decoration, whether it is a bedroom, bathroom, hallway or a dressing room.

The mirror consists of a frame made from 1,4 mm solid brass profile, 4 mm mirror glass and 10 mm MDF. The Randaccio mirror is available in three dimensions; Small Ø42 cm, Medium Ø60 cm and Large Ø70 cm.
